

HUNTINGTON'S RESEARCH GROUP VICTORIA

WORKING TO BETTER SUPPORT, UNDERSTAND AND TREAT HUNTINGTON'S DISEASE

Who are we?

The Huntington's Research Group Victoria (HRGV) is a group of organisations across Victoria committed to better understanding and treating HD. We are also committed to ensuring people with HD, their families and the community, are supported in their everyday lives.

Collectively, we provide clinical and support services, and advocate on behalf of people impacted by HD. We conduct world-class research to improve what we know about HD and how we treat it. For more information about our group, please visit <http://hrgv.org.au>. If you would like to talk to any of our member organisations, their contact details are on the reverse.

Huntington's disease participant registry

We want to stay at the forefront of new HD discoveries and continue our world-class research. We rely on participation from the HD community to do this.

We have developed a HD research participant registry to record details of people who are interested in taking part in our research. You might like to join this registry. We will keep your personal details private when you sign up to the registry. When research opportunities become available, we will contact you.

To join the registry you can complete an online consent form and questionnaire found at:
